Accommodations

The Boulevard Penthouses

- The Boulevard Penthouses are 25 designer suites located on the top five floors of the Boulevard Tower.
- In collaboration with the resort, members of Tihany Design, Daun Curry and Richmond International, who worked as consultants to Marnell Companies, created luxurious penthouses offering exclusive amenities and sweeping views of the Las Vegas skyline. The penthouses range in size from 2,000 square feet to 5,000 square feet. The penthouses—with seven unique designs from each team—cater to Las Vegas’ most discerning travelers.

- Tihany envisioned two distinct guest personas in the design for his penthouses. Inspired by the characters’ imagined native cities of Beverly Hills and New York, the luxury residential interiors embody both the east and west coasts, while catering to the grandeur and excitement of Las Vegas. The Beverly Hills penthouses feature curved shapes, limestone accents and airy touches, while the New York inspired spaces showcase straight lines, dark wood and abstract structures.
- Curry incorporated the playfully seductive persona of The Cosmopolitan and the glamour and opulence of Las Vegas into the aesthetic of her penthouses. Her sense of design remained refined as she and her team developed open-concept spaces to highlight the Boulevard Tower’s impressive views, which influenced the color palette. Ochre, coriander and blush tones are found throughout, and contrasting textures challenge guests to examine their surroundings while ensconced in the warmth and beauty of the space.
- Richmond drew from the vibrancy of the location and the dynamic spaces at The Cosmopolitan, specifically the lobby’s digital art installations and the significant art pieces throughout the resort that inspired provocative artwork and whimsical sculptural installations within the penthouse design. Tailored finishes such as 24-karat gold handcrafted resin and verre eglomise panels afford a level of luxury unique to Las Vegas. Two color palettes, one anchored in teal and jewel tones and the other a vibrant cobalt blue, give the penthouses a distinct identity.
- The resort’s original penthouses, on the 70th floor, were designed by Bentel & Bentel Architects. The stunning collection of suites represents masterpieces of modern design infused by a welcoming element of warmth inspired by the desert. Water, sand, shadows and stone are interpreted, both literally and figuratively, in these expansive suites that afford sweeping views of the Las Vegas cityscape and the rugged landscape beyond. To reach the suites, guests are greeted by long corridors ornamented with light effects and imagery designed to convey the sensation of floating. The ethereal hallway’s lighting shifts as the sun moves across the sky, preparing guest for the expansive suites they are about to enter.
