How to date Gen Z ————— Tinder Dating Dictionary

 tinder[®]

Every generation uses language differently, puts old familiar phrases into new contexts, and enriches interpersonal communication with zeitgeist.

With all of the different ways of connecting and communicating, entirely new words and descriptions are emerging all the time - especially in the world of dating!

We're here to help arm you with all the lingo and to encourage cross-generational dating dialogue by introducing the Tinder Dating Dictionary - which defines the biggest terms and trends in the dating world today.

AF Abbreviation for "as f*ck" (meaning: "to the highest").

"Prioritising values is sexy AF."

Affor-dating Short for "affordable dates" and refers to dates like coffee catch ups, walks or sober dinners that don't break the bank.

"Affor-dating is the only way I'm going to be able to ask this girl out."

Ally A person who supports marginalised, discriminated or oppressed people (groups) 🧑🏻.

"He is an ally, I trust him."

Astrology Babe For people (usually women) who passionately believe in zodiac signs 🌟.

"She is such an astrology babe, the first thing she asked me was my star sign."

Bail Cancelling plans, often at the last minute.

"I actually cannot believe they bailed on me again."

Beige flags Beige flags are early warning signs of incompatibility and are often found in people who are quite basic and boring.

"I got immediate beige flags when her bio said, live, laugh, love."

Benching Keep someone warm or on the "reserves bench" without really meeting up. This often happens through constant but irregular communication, with no binding date set for a meet up 🛋️.

"He's either legitimately busy 24/7, or he's benched me."

Breadcrumbing A low-effort form of flirting, with non-committal messages or signals which show potential interest without the intention to actually date someone. Breadcrumbing keeps someone interested without actual commitment to pursuing flirtation further. 🍴 / 🥄

"This guy has been liking my Insta stories for months now, I wish he would stop breadcrumbing me and ask me out already."

Catfish(ing) A person who uses a completely falsified identity online to seduce people with emotional/romantic relationships.

"He's a catfish and I completely fell for it."

Cringe A person who behaves so embarrassingly or strangely that you feel secondhand shame. A situation can also be referred to as cringe/cringy if it is perceived as particularly embarrassing 😬.

"And then he suddenly licked my cheek in the restaurant."

"Wow, cringe!"

Crush A person you're keen on 😍.

"I have a new crush."

Cuffing season The cold season when everyone's coupling up, so you settle for a new romantic relationship that could be below your usual standards.

"Are you single?" "Not for long. It's cuffing season."

Cushioning Refers to keeping several alternatives or backup relationships (safety pillows) in case the main relationship isn't permanent.

"I don't know why he's still going when she calls."

"Cushioning?"

Daterview A date that feels more like an interview because no natural conversation develops, but a person constantly "processes" their questions 🗒️.

"It was an absolute daterview, I won't be seeing them again."

Dealbreaker A term used to describe the event which led to a breakup with someone.

"I really liked him but the fact that he smokes is a total dealbreaker."

Dip / dipping / dipped Slang for leaving.

"I was only at the party for an hour before I dipped."

Done To be finished or through with someone or something 🗑️.

"I'm so done with dating horse girls."

Dry Texter People who write text in a very "dry" or bland manner, for example rarely using emojis and not maintaining flowing conversations 🗨️.

"I hate talking to dry texters."

Eco-dumping It effectively involves ending a date because of someone's lack of commitment to the environmental cause.

"I eco-dumped him after he said climate change was fake."

ENM (ethical-non monogamy) Any form of romantic relationships that doesn't involve exclusivity between partners.

"I'm in an ethical-non monogamous relationship."

Flex / flexer A person who often brags about their possessions 🧑🏻💼.

"She flexed her handbag."

Friendtroduction When you meet a new partner's friends 🧑🏻👫.

"Are you down for a friendtroduction this weekend?"

Friends with benefits / FWB A purely platonic relationship where both parties do have sexual encounters with each other.

"I thought you were dating that guy from uni?"

"No we're just FWB."

Frugal flirting Like affor-dating, frugal flirting is about dating within your means.

"Frugal flirting my way to this walking date."

Gaslight(ing) Manipulating someone by using psychological methods so that you end up questioning your own reasoning and abilities.

"He was the biggest gaslighter ever, every time she said something about wanting to break up he'd tell her that it was her idea to stay together."

GF / BF Abbreviation for girlfriend / boyfriend 💖.

"Is it fine if I bring my GF with me?"

Ghosting Stopping contact suddenly and with no obvious reason while dating, effectively disappearing.

"After that, she just ghosted me."

Green dating Green dating is when you choose to date someone based on shared values, particularly when it comes to the environment.

"I think I have subconsciously been green dating my whole life."

Green flag A positive sign that indicates a good match.

"He absolutely adores dogs - the green flags are adding up!"

Haunting Continuing to interact with an old flame on social media in the form of comments or likes in order to be remembered long after a relationship has ended 🥺.

"How is this guy still haunting you on Insta?"

"I'm trying to figure out the best time to hard launch my new relationship."

Hook up An intentionally vague description applied to relationships where people want to remain unclear on what their physical progress is and could cover a range of possibilities. In Australia, it often refers to simply making out, in contrast to overseas where it means casual sex.

"I saw her hooking up with them at the party last night."

Hubby material / Wifey material Someone who you can see yourself being in a long-term relationship with.

"He was such a good cook, definitely hubby material!"

Ick A turn-off, which refers to more than just sexual turn offs.

"I thought I liked them but I watched them driving with their seat all the way forward and it just gave me the ick."

Kittenfishing Changing aspects of yourself to appear more attractive to others. Unlike catfishing, this refers to things such as falsely depicting your actual physical appearance rather than making up an entire identity 🥺.

"Now that I met her in person, it's obvious that she was kittenfishing."

Lame Boring 😞.

"How was the date?"

"So lame, he only wanted to talk about his job."

LGBTQIA+ Abbreviation for "Lesbian, Gay, Bisexual, Transgender, Queer, Intersex, Asexual", while the "+" placeholder is for other gender identities. The letter sequence is a collective drawing for people who do not identify with cisgendered or heterosexual norms 🏳️‍🌈.

"I love that she is an LGBTQIA+ activist."

Love bombing Bombard someone - especially at the beginning of the relationship - with expressions of love 💖.

"The love bombing from this man is a serious red flag."

Lowkey The expression "lowkey" comes from "to be low key" and means doing something secretly, or in an inconspicuous or discrete manner.

"He lowkey has a crush on her."

Main character energy A term that means focusing on and advocating for yourself and the things that make you happy, instead of wasting time on people who don't meet your standards or needs.

"I'm in my main character energy dating era."

Misso / missus A slang term for a female partner, typically used by friends who believe the male partner is whipped.

"Where'd old mate go?"

"He ditched us for his misso again."

LOVE

Netflix and chill

A typical date idea, spending a relaxed evening together on the couch and watching a film/series. In early dating usage, this is usually a synonym for a sex meet-up date, though in later phases of a relationship this will often be the literal act of Netflix and chilling, without any sexual interaction 🍿.

"Do you want to go out for dinner or should we just Netflix and chill. :)"

"Next on deck"

A term for the next person in line to date if things don't work out with a current love affair 🍷🍷🍷.

"I really don't have high hopes for this boy."

"Yeah I guess he's been a bit hot and cold recently. Who's next on deck?"

Non-binary (also enby)

A collective noun for people who don't identify with the binary genders of male and female 🏳️.

"They define themselves as a nonbinary person and would like to be addressed with they and them pronouns".

"On ice"

From "putting on ice", this is a synonym for taking a break in a relationship 🧊.

"I've had to put him on ice, I just couldn't deal with his footy mates."

ONS

Abbreviation for "one night stand" 🌙.

"I had the best ONS last night!"

Open relationship

Open to a relationship where the parties are free to take new partners. (Committed but not exclusive to sex).

"We decided to have an open relationship so we could have new experiences."

OTP

Abbreviation for the expression "one true pairing" (meaning dream couple). The term is often used to describe a romantic or platonic favourite couple in a story or film 📺.

"Have you seen Wednesday yet? Wednesday and Enid are our new OTP."

Pan(sexual)

A person who is sexually attracted to all people irrespective of gender∞.

"I don't care what gender identity you have. I'm pan."

Poly(amory)

Open to having multiple romantic or intimate relationships at the same time. (Committed but not exclusive in terms of love and/or sex and/or commitment).

"I can't do a long-term relationship with just one person, I'd much rather be poly."

Queer

A self-descriptor used by people of the LGBTQIA+ community that avoids clearly defined sexuality or gender descriptors, especially in cases where the person is unsure of which labels are most appropriate for them to use or prefers to reject labels.

"My brother told me yesterday that he is queer."

Recycling

Returning to an ex-partner (this was particularly popular in pandemic times) ♻️.

"Are you back with her again? We already spoke about not recycling!"

Red flag

Warning signs ("red flags"), in which the alarm bells should ring 🚩.

"I ignored all the red flags and then I found out he doesn't believe in feminism."

Rizz

When someone has an ability to charm others easily. Can be referred to as 'game'.

"They have rizz."

Sexting

Sending and exchanging digital nude pictures or sexy messages 🍑🔥.

"He is really into sexting, but I'm not about that."

Situationship

A romantic juncture that hovers somewhere between a steady relationship and an affair or friendship and remains undefined throughout 🤔.

"Are you actually together now?"

"Nah, it's more of a situationship."

Slay

Killed it. Succeeded in something amazing.

"She slayed that date."

Slide in the DMs

Flirt via direct messages on a social media platform (normally on Instagram, Twitter, Snapchat or Facebook) 📱.

"She slid into my DMs and so everything started."

Sneaky link

Meet a person regularly to have sex with each other without anyone knowing about it 🤫.

"To be honest, we have been seeing each other for about three months."

"Seriously? That's a long time to be a sneaky link."

Sober first kiss

The first kiss in which both parties are completely sober. This stands in contrast to many first kisses that occur during drunken parties or clubbing nights 🍷.

"Yesterday we had our sober first kiss - it actually went much better than I would've thought."

Soft launch

Soft launching a relationship is when you drop hints online as to who a partner is, with only enough detail to discern that you are dating someone.

"I swear she's been soft launching this new guy for a month now, show us his face I'm sick of staring at the back of his head!"

Stashing

Describes a situation where a person spends long periods of time with a partner but never ends up meeting their friends or family 🏠.

"She's gone to her parents for dinner again but still didn't ask me if I wanted to come. Reckon she's stashing you?"

Summer fling

A summer romance with no pressure of extending into a longer-term relationship 🍷.

"It was just a summer fling babe, I do not want to see them again."

Sunday test

Testing your compatibility with a date by spending a Sunday together and doing absolutely nothing 🛋️.

"I'm going to give him the Sunday test tomorrow, I'm actually excited to see how it turns out."

Sus

Abbreviation for suspicious or suspect. The term became known primarily through the online game "Among Us" and is used when something is questionable, suspicious or noticeable 😬.

"I always found it sus that he'd leave the room to take calls."

Text-lationship

A relationship between people who will often text each other, but rarely (if ever) meet 🗑️.

"Are you still in this this text-lationship deal with her or have you finally met up?"

Toxic

A person or environment that is actively negative for your wellbeing.

"He always flirts with other people in front me of, I need to get away from this toxic guy asap."

Trans

Abbreviation for "transgender": People whose gender identity does not match the gender they were assigned at birth 🏳️.

"I am trans woman and I deserve to be treated as people would treat a cisgendered woman."

Tune

Refers to a courting stage where both parties are aware of their attraction to each other but continue to participate in a pantomime flirting period.

"He's been tuning her for like two weeks now, it's so painfully obvious."

Turbo relationship

A relationship that is in full swing within a very short time, with behaviours that would normally develop only after months together manifesting at the very beginning. This may be due to mitigating factors such as the pandemic or moving overseas 🗺️.

"She's already moved in with me, we've gone hardcore turbo relationship."

Vibing

Being connected or feeling comfortable with each other 🍷.

"The date was so good. We were really vibing."

Whipped

Refers to someone who bends over backwards and is at their partner's beck and call.

"This is the third week in a row old mate has ditched training to hang out with his girlfriend, he's so whipped."

Zombie-ing

Occurs when someone who has previously ghosted you reinitiates contact suddenly and unfoundedly, often months later.

"I have not heard from her in literally six months and now she's in my DM's, why is she zombie-ing me now?"

TINDER TERMS

Are you sure? (AYS?)

AYS? is a feature on the Tinder app that leverages AI technology to detect harmful language and warn the sender that their message may be offensive. This feature is aimed to help Tinder members pause and consider their actions.

Bio Guidance

Offering Bio Guidance is an additional step in ensuring members understand what's acceptable on Tinder, while also helping protect their personal information.

Block Contacts

Don't want to see your ex or colleague? This feature allows members to block known contacts they may not want to encounter while making new connections.

Block Profile

Block Profile is an important step to give members the option to choose who they want to see on Tinder. Now, when profiles are suggested, before matching, members can block them so they don't show up again.

Boost

When you use a Boost, your profile shoots up to the top so that you can come across more potential matches in your area!

Desk Mode

Did you know you can access Tinder on your desktop? If your boss is coming, you can even click on the briefcase icon to replace your matches with a sneaky Tinder-made work report.

Does This Bother You?

Does This Bother You? asks members this question when they receive a potentially offensive message on Tinder. When someone responds 'yes' to the prompt, they have the option to report the sender for their behaviour.

Explore

Explore is a hub within the app that hosts interactive ways to use Tinder. Members have more control over who they meet by giving them the option to navigate through profiles arranged by interest and more.

Incognito

Incognito Mode is a step up from fully hiding your profile. Members can still Like and Nope in the app, but only those they've Liked will see them in their recommendations.

Interests

The Interests feature allows you to select your favorite pastimes and share them on your profile. Interests are a great way to connect with potential matches and get the conversation started.

Music Mode

Music Mode automatically plays your chosen Spotify Anthem.

Mutual Matching

To start a conversation, two people must have mutually liked each other, thanks to the Swipe Right™ feature, meaning nobody is getting unsolicited messages from someone they haven't expressed interest in.

Passport

Passport is a premium feature that allows you to search by city or drop a pin on a map and begin Liking, matching and chatting with others in the destination of your choice.

Photo Verification

Reporting

Our enhanced reporting process was designed to give survivors more agency over what step they want to take next — whether it's making a formal report immediately or unmatching and making a report later.

Rewind

The Rewind option lets you take back your last Like or Nope. If you accidentally passed on someone you wanted to get to know, they are no longer lost in the Tindersphere™ forever.

Safety Centre

The in-app safety centre is the go-to destination for all things safety. Including local resources, articles, tips, quizzes and information about our safety and privacy features.

Spotify Anthem

Through integration with Spotify, Tinder's Music Mode automatically plays members' chosen anthems - that one song that defines them inside and out.

Super Like™

Have you ever come across someone that's completely irresistible and a simple Like just wouldn't be enough? Tell them how you feel when you Super Like™ them!

Swipe

Swipe Surge

A Swipe Surge is when activity naturally surges in your location, leading to faster matches and quicker conversations. Look out for push notifications.

Top Picks

Top Picks is a premium feature, available for Tinder Gold and Platinum subscribers, designed to highlight your most Swipe-worthy potential matches.

Traveller Alert

When LGBTQIA+ members travel IRL or use Tinder's Passport feature to meet people a country with laws that penalise their community, they are alerted and given a choice to opt out before their profile is shown in the area.

Unmatch

Tinder members are able to unmatch or block someone at any time for any reason, whether it wasn't a good fit or something more serious. Once unmatched, that person will no longer appear in the match list or message list, and they won't be able to see you or message you anymore.

Video Chat

The in-app video calling feature allows members to meet digitally, verify their match is genuine and better assess whether the chemistry is there before an IRL date - all without giving out personal contact details.
