

THURSDAY, AUGUST 9, 2018 – 6:30 AM WEATHER FORECAST

Our unsettled weather pattern continues. A weak upper-level trough is draped over TN. Also, a surface frontal boundary continues to straddle the KY/TN border. These weather features mean we can expect more showers and storms today and tomorrow. Very heavy rainfall is an on-going possibility, and we're still on track to see 1" – 2" over a 3 day period. Most likely time-frames today are between 9 AM and Noon, and then again between 3 PM and 7 PM. The waves of showers and storms continue tomorrow before lower chances come in for the weekend. Expect light wind early this morning, then a west-southwest wind from mid-morning on at 5 to 10 mph, except higher gusts in/near showers and storms. Winds gradually veer to the northwest Friday. High temperature today at 87 degrees. Continued muggy with lows the next few nights near 70. Some patchy fog is possible briefly this morning, and again late Friday night, but not expected to impact play.
