

SATURDAY, MAY 8, 2021 – 6 AM WEATHER FORECAST

Enjoy the beautiful weather today as high pressure builds across the state. Generally sunny skies may mix with some clouds at times by mid to late this morning. Dewpoints are in the low 60s and should stay unusually low all day as high temps reach the low 80s. Northeast winds this morning will pick up throughout the morning, settling in the 8-14 mph range for this afternoon with gusts up near 20 mph as they become more easterly. East and southeast winds Sunday will increase our humidity with dewpoints rising through the 60s. That will also give us more clouds along with a slight chance of a passing shower.
