

THURSDAY, JULY 29, 2021 – 5 AM WEATHER FORECAST

Enjoy some of the glimpses of the sun this morning because clouds will be increasing as the morning wears on with mostly cloudy skies anticipated this afternoon. Temps in the upper 60s will warm up into the upper half of the 70s by midday with dewpoints in the upper half of the 60s thanks to southerly flow that will gust in the teens at times today. Look for a random 40% risk of a shower and 20% chance of a storm at times this morning, but the real action is supposed to develop to our southwest towards NYC as the morning progresses. Then as we head through lunchtime we'll begin to ramp up the threat of showers and storms with the peak of the stormy weather coming mid to late afternoon. Some showers and maybe a storm or two will linger into this evening before the weather begins to improve overnight with lows in the 60s. High pressure starts pushing into the region on Friday gradually giving us nicer and nicer weather that will last through Saturday.
