

SUNDAY, SEPTEMBER 26, 2021 – 6 AM WEATHER FORECAST

Look forward to another very pleasant day again today as temps start off just below 60 degrees and eventually they will warm up into the middle 80s this afternoon. Sunshine this morning will mix with just a couple fair weather cumulus clouds this afternoon. Dewpoints will remain low in the 50s to around 60 degrees today keeping the humidity levels extremely comfortable. Light winds at sunrise will become a northerly breeze by late morning gusting up near 10 mph before giving way to an onshore breeze later on today. Monday and Tuesday will continue the theme of unbelievably nice conditions with the only difference being a little more humidity as winds come more off of the Atlantic in the afternoons giving us a few more shade clouds. Temps will reach the upper 80s on Wednesday before a weak disturbance moves into the Carolinas on Thursday bringing a very slight chance of a raindrop.
