

MONDAY, AUGUST 15, 2022 – 6 AM WEATHER FORECAST

Clouds eventually filter in this morning, but full-sky cloud coverage will be hard to come by today. This will create pleasant conditions for the majority of the day, though an afternoon shower is possible between 1 and 5:30PM. An east to southeast wind will gust to a mere 12 mph, looking to increase overnight into Tuesday. After a pleasant 80 degree day, tonight's lowest temperatures sink below 65 degrees. Tuesday is expected to be a dry, breezy day with the highest gusts of 21 mph focused in the mid-morning to mid-afternoon. Beyond today's risk of a rain shower, the next threat of precip shows up after sunset Tuesday. In the meantime, enjoy partly to mostly cloudy skies for the two days of stroke play!
