

THURSDAY, AUGUST 18, 2022 – 6 AM WEATHER FORECAST

Fair weather resumes. A sharp warm up to the upper half of the 80s will take place through lunchtime, accompanied by western winds to 12 mph. There is a slight chance of a persistent shower/storm traveling from Pennsylvania, but this would be restricted to 20% in the early evening window. Otherwise, a dry, warm forecast is in store for Thursday and Friday. Temperatures settle into the mid 60s tonight, but rebound quickly to 90 degrees Friday afternoon. Humidity slowly increases through Friday and into the weekend, allowing bubbly clouds to form each afternoon. We will watch the potential for any of these bubbly clouds to form into precip this weekend, but the overall pattern does not support widespread coverage.
