

MONDAY, AUGUST 29th, 2022 – 6 AM WEATHER FORECAST

Look for some dew and a few clouds around this morning, otherwise what a way to kick off the week! The high temperature today will nudge into the low 80s before our southwesterly flow churns this afternoon with surface moisture returning. Mainly sunny skies for much of the day with some clouds filtering in later this evening and overnight. Winds a touch more robust Tuesday afternoon as the anticipated cold front nears its westerly approach onto the area. Other than an increase in cloud cover Tuesday into Tuesday night, an isolated shower or storm is possible with a separate but very weak low advancing north across the Hamptons. I am still watching for this front to make its unimpressive passage Wednesday morning, still introducing the chance for a shower or storm with it. Right now, models are fairly consistent with possibly seeing anywhere up to 0.25" here at Kittansett Club. A lingering shower or two is not ruled out as we make our way through the final matches, but will look for mainly dry, but still breezy conditions. This westerly wind finally shows Thursday with drier and cooler air to follow.
