

2022 U.S. Mid-Amateur Championship
Monday, Sept. 13, Round of 64, Match Play, Erin Hills, Erin, Wis.

Andrew Paysse, of Temple, Texas – (def. Hayes Brown, 1 up)

Note – Paysse is the brother-in-law of Masters champion and U.S. Open runner-up Scottie Scheffler. Paysse's wife, Callie (Scheffler), is serving as his caddie during the U.S. Mid-Amateur. The couple both played college golf at Texas A&M University.

(on his brother, William, playing in Wisconsin's Badger Invitational at same time)

"That's so cool. Just to be an hour and a half away, playing at the same time, it's pretty crazy. I'm so proud of him...He's playing really good golf right now. This [championship] is just for fun [for me]. What he does is more important."

(on his brother winning the Badger Invitational on Tuesday)

"It was better news when we were playing [Saturday] out here [at Erin Hills] when we found out that (Texas) A&M football lost [to Appalachian State]. Definitely, the two sides of the spectrum."
