Shelly Stouffer Wins the 2022 Championship

In one of the most dominant performances in championship history, Shelly Stouffer breezed through the bracket to win the 60th U.S. Senior Women's Amateur at Anchorage Golf Course. Stouffer put an exclamation point on the week with a resounding 4-and-3 victory over Sue Wooster in the final to become the fourth Canadian to win the title.

Moments after Wooster missed an 8-foot birdie putt on the 15th, Stouffer, 52, of Nanoose Bay in the province of British Columbia, calmly rolled in a 3-footer for par to end the match. She raised her arms in celebration and hugged her 15-year-old son, Brett, who caddied for her throughout the championship in Alaska. It was an emotional end to a fulfilling week, the winning moment made all the more special because they could share it together.

"He knows my game because we play a lot together," said Stouffer. "He was helping with reading the greens. He knows my clubs. He was awesome. He kept me calm."

Stouffer sprinted out to an early advantage against Wooster and never looked back. She birdied the first hole to take a 1-up lead and doubled the lead with a winning par on the fourth. Stouffer moved three ahead when Wooster double bogeyed the par-5 sixth, and followed with wins on Nos. 8 and 9, the latter with a birdie, to take a commanding 5-up lead at the turn.

"I've been feeling really good about my game, and I didn't really have a lot of nerves," said Stouffer. "We kept to our game plan. I'm like, 'Why change it now?' And it totally worked in my favor, I think."

Few would have guessed that Stouffer would raise the trophy after her inauspicious start on Saturday. She made five bogeys and two double bogeys in Round 1 of stroke play, needing 37 putts in a 9-over-par 81 that left her T-45.

But the next day, Stouffer was a completely different player. She rebounded with a 4-under 68 in Round 2 – the lowest in the championship by five strokes – to earn the No. 2 seed in match play. Stouffer never looked back, winning 37 holes and losing just eight over the course of her six matches.

For Wooster, it was another disappointing defeat in a Senior Women's Amateur championship match – her third in the last four years. Her 15 match-play victories since 2018 are second only to three-time champion Lara Tennant in that span, but the 60-year-old Australian has no hardware to show for it.

A day after coming back from a 3-hole deficit against Christie Blasi in the semifinals, Wooster could not turn the tide against Stouffer. She managed to win only one hole on the day – with a par on the 14th – but it was too little, too late.

"I'm so proud of myself for making three finals in four years," said Wooster. "I'm not going to give up on winning this trophy one day. It didn't happen today, but things happen in funny ways. I think my day will come."

Stouffer is the eighth Canadian to win a USGA championship and joins Marlene Streit (1985, 1994, 2003), Gayle Borthwick (1996, 1998) and Judith Kyrinis (2017) as Canadian winners of the Senior Women's Amateur.

Notable

Sue Wooster will receive a silver medal and a three-year exemption into this championship as well as exemptions into the 2022 U.S. Women's Mid-Amateur, 2023 U.S. Women's Amateur and 2023 U.S. Senior Women's Open.

Shelly Stouffer did not play the 17th or 18th holes in any of her six matches.

Stouffer played 87 holes in her six matches this week. That ties Carol Semple Thompson (2001) for the second-fewest match-play holes needed by a champion. Ellen Port played just 85 in 2012.

Wooster is the sixth player to go 0-for-3 in USGA finals, and fourth to have it happen in the same championship. The others are Margaret Gavin (1915, 1919, 1922 Women's Amateur), Bob Lewis Jr. (1980 Amateur; 1981, 1984 Mid-Amateur), Toni Wiesner (1997, 2000, 2008 Senior Women's Amateur), Kerry Postillion (1996, 2005, 2007 Women's Mid-Amateur) and Jillian Bourdage (2019 Girls' Junior; 2019, 2021 Women's Amateur Four-Ball).

Stouffer's title comes in just her fourth USGA championship start. She advanced to the semifinals in last year's Senior Women's Amateur, lost in the Round of 32 in the 2015 Women's Mid-Amateur and missed the cut in the 2001 U.S. Women's Open.

Stouffer is a reinstated amateur as of June 1, 2011. She had a 14-year career as a professional golfer (1997-2011) and played in six major championships.

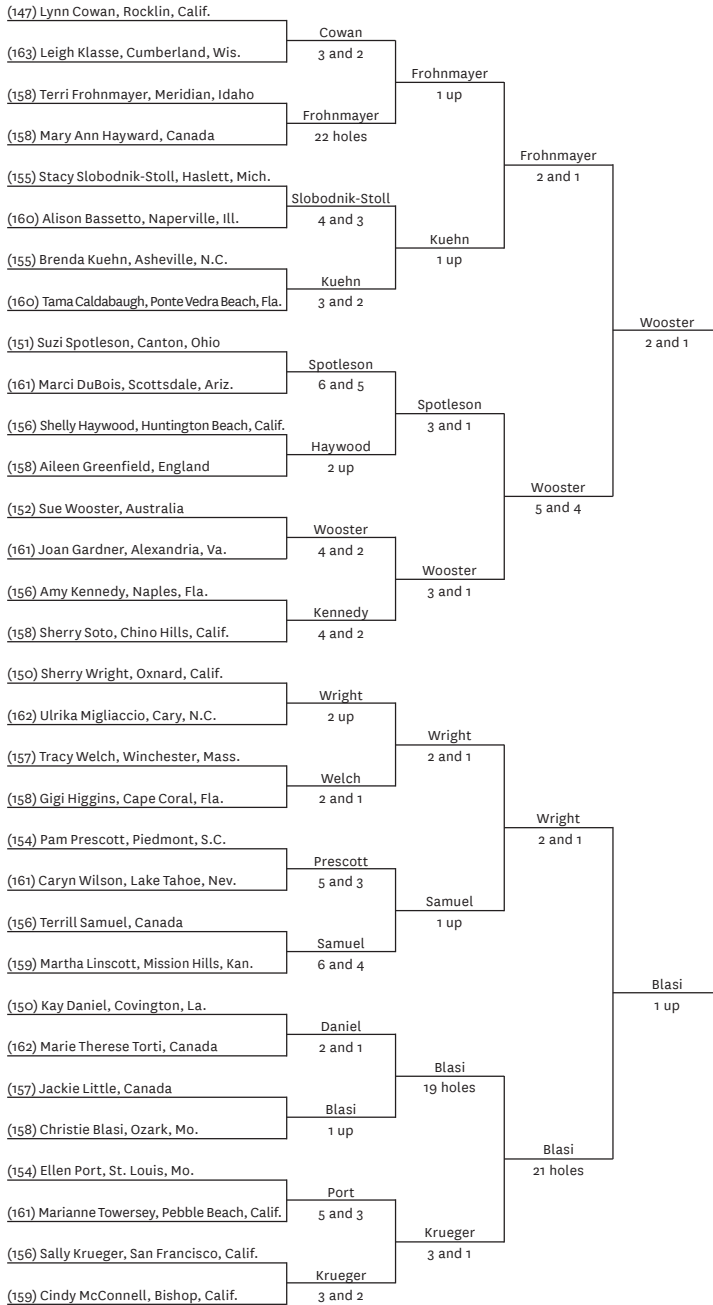

Approximately 200 fans followed the final match, including several competitors from the championship field. Among them were seven-time USGA champion Port and 2005 Women's Mid-Amateur champion Mary Ann Hayward.

Quotable

"Pretty amazing, probably the highest win of my career. It's a USGA event, it's amazing. I won the Canadian Senior last year, which got me into this [in 2021], which was amazing, and I came third last year. You know, so I did one better this year!" – Shelly Stouffer

Championship History

The U.S. Senior Women's Amateur Championship was inaugurated in 1962 for women golfers age 50 and older.

By the late 1950s, a number of senior women's golf organizations had been formed, principally to conduct tournaments, but there was no existing tournament to determine the national champion. The USGA was requested to step in, and in January 1962, the Executive Committee approved such a competition.

In its own quiet way, senior women's golf has flourished over the years. Several major competitions have sprung up throughout the country, and with the expansion of women's golf, the number of quality senior players has increased dramatically. Many women, age 50 and over, for the first time find they have the requisite time for top-level competitive golf. Additionally, some of the nation's finest amateurs have advanced into this age group and still seek to test their talent and experience on a championship level. Many women who enter these competitions also have been instrumental in the development of women's golf in this country, encouraging younger players and conducting tournaments at all levels.

The first Senior Women's Amateur Championship, in 1962 at the Manufacturers' Golf and Country Club in Oreland, Pa., was a stroke-play showdown of two longtime rivals. Maureen Orcutt, a four-time Curtis Cup player, finished with a 54-hole score of 240, seven strokes ahead of Glenna Collett Vare. In the 1920s and 1930s, Vare reigned as this country's finest woman player with a record six victories in the U.S. Women's Amateur.

Great players of the past have thus far dominated the Senior Women's Amateur. Carolyn Cudone, another former Curtis Cup Team member, won the championship five times in succession between 1968 and 1972.

Dorothy Porter won four Senior Women's Amateur Championships and is one of only four players to have also captured the U.S. Women's Amateur. In 1993, Anne Sander, the Women's Amateur champion in 1958, 1961 and 1963, won her fourth Senior Women's Amateur.

Marlene Stewart Streit, U.S. Women's Amateur champion in 1956, won the Senior Women's Amateur in 1985, 1994 and 2003, and was runner-up a record five times. The 47-year span between Streit's first and last USGA titles is the longest among all USGA champions.

Carol Semple Thompson won the 1973 Women's Amateur and the 1990 and 1997 Women's Mid-Amateurs, and captured her fourth consecutive Senior Women's Amateur title in 2002.

After 35 years of a stroke-play format, the 1997 championship was the first Senior Women's Amateur to be conducted at match play. It was the last of the USGA's 10 national amateur championships to adopt a match-play format.

In 2020, the U.S. Senior Women's Amateur was canceled due to the COVID-19 pandemic.

Lara Tennant became the third player to win at least three consecutive U.S. Senior Women's Amateurs, joining Carolyn Cudone and Semple Thompson, in 2021.

Alaska hosted a USGA championship for the first time in 2022 when the U.S. Senior Women's Amateur was conducted at Anchorage Golf Course.
