THOR GUARD WEATHER

124TH U.S. WOMEN'S AMATEUR SOUTHERN HILLS

USGA

AUGUST 10, 2024 - 6 AM WEATHER FORECAST

Be prepared to put on and take off your rain jacket several times today, because off and on showers are expected throughout the day. Most of these showers will be very light, but in the afternoon showers will become a bit heavier and out lightning chances will just slightly to 40%. With the showers and extra cloud cover our temp will just get out of the 70s this afternoon and our winds will be out of the northeast at 6 - 12 mph then weakening to 4 - 8 mph out of the east this evening. Sunday morning does not look like it will be a lot of fun for anyone as thunderstorms are expected to barrel through the area in the morning and into the early afternoon, and they will leave behind plenty of water as 1 - 3 inches of rain is expected from this round of storms. Once we make it into the afternoon our rain chances drop and the sun will likely pop out in the later afternoon giving us a high in the low 80s. Winds will be out of the southeast at 6 - 12 mph in the afternoon.
