

SUNDAY, SEPTEMBER 22, 2024 – 6 AM WEATHER FORECAST

Last night's rinse amounted to just 0.06", just short of a miracle. Low clouds will hang on for the majority of today, with any sunshine helping to spark the afternoon showers that are expected in the area later on – especially between 1 and 6 PM. We enter a quiet Sunday night and Monday, ahead of a renewed potential for showers that sticks around through the rest of the week. Wednesday is the day of primary concern, but any time after Monday afternoon is fair game for rainfall. A series of weak disturbances will be passing throughout this timeframe, lending to periods of dry conditions diced up by periods of rainfall.
