

WEDNESDAY, SEPTEMBER 25, 2024 – 6 AM WEATHER FORECAST

Rainfall stacked up to 0.18" before 5 AM this morning, with totals actively increasing through 10 AM this morning. The heaviest zone of precip is expected to move through at 8 - 10 AM. After we escape that, the threat becomes more conditional on scattered cells forming, an overall improvement throughout the day. Still, thunder is possible with a rich amount of moisture in a warmer environment. Tonight we will breathe a sigh of relief. Thursday is showing a better picture altogether, with an extended period of limited precip.
