

Mawhinney: “We’ll get a little bit of practice in here on the range then head back to the house and play some pool and get some dinner.”

U.S. Amateur Four-Ball

May 18, 2026

Desert Mountain Club, Scottsdale, Ariz.

Round of 32 (Cochise Course)

Luke Colton & Tyler Mawhinney

Q. Made it to match play; how did you manage to go 1-0 and control the match?

Mawhinney: “We both figured something out heading into the back nine. We got on a roll there hitting shots and were able to close out the match strong.”

Q: Any added pressure with you being the defending champion?

Mawhinney: “No, I don’t think so. Just try to go out there and play golf, win as many holes as possible and see what happens.”

You both were here back in March for National Junior Team camp, how did that experience playing here in this climate help this week?

Colton: “For sure, being able to play Outlaw. There are a lot of things you wouldn’t notice just playing it once or twice. Getting used to the different elevation and temperature, knowing how the ball flies out here has helped a lot.”

Q: What’s the preparation look like going into Round of 16 tomorrow?