

WEDNESDAY, MAY 20, 2026 - US AMATEUR FOUR - BALL 6 AM FORECAST

Clouds drifted off to the east just before the sun broke the horizon this morning helping to keep temperatures in the upper 50s near 60 degrees this morning but with the lack of moisture the hint of a chill will still be present as the semi-finals get underway. This time around, skies will look to remain clear overhead for the remainder of the day as temperatures quickly slide up into the upper-70s mid-morning topping out in the mid-80s this afternoon before slipping back to near 80 degrees as we are crowning our champion this evening. Winds will do their signature song and dance throughout the day; blowing light primarily out of the east for the first few hours as temperatures increase so will the intensity with flow then settling from the southwest around lunchtime with sustained averages in the 7 - 9 mph range gusting to near 20 mph at times. Moisture remains at premium with dewpoints holding in the upper 20s for the majority of the day to be sure to take in plenty of liquids!!!
