WHAT'S NEW

in Raleigh, N.C.

Hotel News

Newly Opened

The StateView Hotel—North Carolina State University/Centennial Campus

Opened Oct. 2017, this is a 156-room Marriott Autograph Collection hotel property and full-service conference center. Driven by state-of-the-art technology and interactive spaces, this property also features an outdoor pool, restaurant and bar with 9,000 sq. ft. of meeting space. The hotel is built on a 10-acre site overlooking Lake Raleigh at N.C. State University's Centennial Campus.

Under Construction

Origin Hotel

The seven story, 126-room boutique Origin Hotel will open in mid-2019 and will be operated by Schulte Hospitality Group. The property will be located between the Glenwood South and Warehouse Districts in downtown Raleigh, and it will also include a wine and tapas restaurant and juice bar.

The Willard

Another five story, 120+ room boutique hotel will be an urban-style AC Hotel by Marriott in downtown Raleigh's Warehouse District and will also open in 2019.

Culinary and Nightlife

Kaiju Bowl and Bo

More than just ramen, Raleigh restaurateur Ken Yowell's new eatery features Asian noodles, steamed buns, Korean chicken wings and "lots of surprises." Don't forget to try the Adult Capri Sun.

Two Roosters Ice Cream

Starting as a food truck serving out of a camper attached to a pickup truck, Two Roosters now offers a second brick-and-mortar location in the Person Street District. Known for inventive but refined flavors that use local ingredients, Two Roosters has built a much-deserved loyal following in the area.

Hummingbird

Chef Coleen Speaks' first neighborhood cocktail bar and cafe is now open at Loading Dock Raleigh. Speaks trained under chef Emeril Lagasse and local chef Ashley Christensen. Open for breakfast, lunch, dinner and late night snacks. The menu is inspired by her decade of catering for adventurous foodies.

Brewery Bhavana

From the creators of Bida Manda, brother and sister Vansana and Vanvisa Nolintha, Brewery Bhavana is a brewery, taproom, dim sum restaurant, library and flower shop, all in one. A gathering space welcoming people from all walks of life, backgrounds and futures to enjoy Belgian-inspired beer and lovingly-crafted food while surrounded by books and flowers. This year Bon Appétit magazine named Brewery Bhavana one of The Hot 10 Best New Restaurants in America. They will be opening another taproom in southeast Raleigh in 2018.

Watts & Ward

One of the largest and newest underground speakeasies in the Southeast, at 6,000 square feet, emulates the 1920s America underground spirit. The seemingly endless cavern, with leather seating, vintage artwork, rustic tables, dim lighting and bookshelves full of history. Watts & Ward has an outdoor patio and lawn where live music and swing dancing take place.

Morgan Street Food Hall

A new lifestyle dining concept; not to be confused with a food court, the establishment will feature a partnering confluence of local favorite eateries and restaurants as well as food retailers. The goal is to introduce the concept of cross-meal ordering, where different meals are enjoyed in a shared seating area. With a vast expanse of over 22,000 sq.ft., Morgan Street Food Hall brings something fun and new to downtown Raleigh's Warehouse District.

Coming Soon

Jolie

Five-time James Beard award semifinalist Scott Crawford, owner of Crawford and Son, is opening a new restaurant called Jolie. The French-inspired bistro will offer casual French classics with a modern twist. The cozy, yet lively, space will also exclusively serve French beer and wine. Named for his daughter, and the French word "pretty," Jolie will open later this Fall right beside Crawford and Son, in the Person Street district.

Transfer Co. Food Hall

Downtown Raleigh's historic Olde East neighborhood will soon be home to a 43,000-square-foot food hall, market and gathering place named Transfer Co. Vendors will have production space and restaurant or retail counters, as well as space for events that welcome the community, city and beyond.

Tenants include Videri Chocolate Factory, Burial Beer Co., Boulted Bread and Jubala Coffee, Locals Oyster Bar, Saxapahaw General Store and more. Opening early 2019.

Moore Square Renovation

One of four public spaces that was designated by the founders of Raleigh in 1792, downtown Raleigh's Moore Square park is in progress with a $12.5 million renovation that will include landscaping, construction of a small cafe, concert area and more. Moore Square is scheduled to reopen in early 2019.

Aviator Brewing Company Expansion

The craft beer scene in Fuquay-Varina will soon expand to include "a beer entertainment complex" by Aviator Brewing Company. This complex will include relocating the brewery for additional production space and will include a concert stage, distillery (Gold Leaf Distilling), a new restaurant, a mezzanine overlook and more. The space will keep in theme with the company's roots of being started in an old airplane hangar. The expansion is expected to be completed by Spring 2019.

Next on the list? RDU recently added non-stop flights to: Fort Myers; Montego Bay, Jamaica; San Diego; Syracuse, N.Y.; and West Palm Beach. RDU is also pursuing international expansion to include flights to China and Mexico.

Transportation

RDU International Airport currently averages approximately 400 arrivals and departures daily. RDU provides service to 60+ destinations via nonstop flights. Delta flies nonstop to Paris daily and American to London Heathrow, also daily. Both airlines recently increased the size of the aircraft on the route adding comfort and additional capacity.

Noteworthy Attractions

Robertson Millpond Preserve

Transport yourself to a long-ago place and time at this 85-acre refuge for nature lovers, canoeists and kayakers in Wendell. The area's significant for its rich cultural and environmental history. When you look around, you'll think you're in the Great Dismal Swamp! Paddle the millpond in a non-motorized boat, explore natural areas and fish in designated areas.

Museum Park at the North Carolina Museum of Art

The largest museum art park in the country, with more than 160 acres of meadows, woodlands, gardens and creeks, is now even bigger. An expansion project bringing new contemporary gardens, a promenade connecting the park and galleries, hundreds of new trees and an elliptical lawn overlooking the park's rolling meadow opened Fall 2016.

CAM Raleigh

With constantly changing exhibits in downtown Raleigh's Warehouse District CAM explores what is current and coming in the art and design world. From early July through mid-September check out local Raleigh artist Jason Craighead's "threshold" exhibit featuring new large-scale paintings that explore the immensity of the human condition and emotion.
