

REPLACEMENTS, LTD.

There's a place for you.

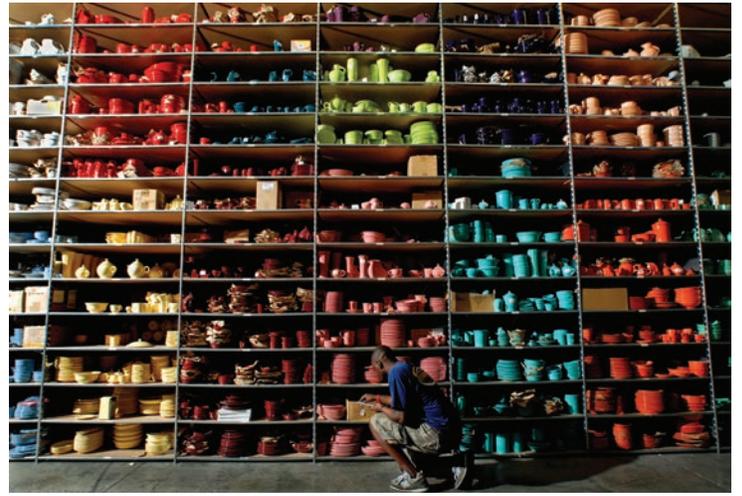

There's been a place for you at our table since 1981, when Bob Page took the bold step of starting Replacements in the attic of his home. Nearly four decades later, his tireless passion continues to drive and inspire us to help each generation reinvent how to entertain, gather and make a house a home.

We help create experiences that last a lifetime by providing the world's largest selection of vintage and current tableware and collectibles. We're more than a matching service; Replacements is proud to nurture an inclusive workplace and believes in influencing social change through our actions. We understand the values of our employees, customers and our communities— at Replacements, there's always a place for everyone.

Replacements, Ltd. — There's a place for you.

We're more than a replacements business. We're proud of our history as the world's largest tableware retailer. While we honor our past, we're writing the next chapter to our history, helping define tomorrow's tabletop trends by inspiring generations to create tables that reflect their tastes and lifestyles.

No one does tableware like we do. Whether you're looking to refresh, renew or replace, we're here to help you get the most out of every moment. With an inventory of more than 11 million pieces of vintage and current tableware and collectibles, we can show you how to create a look that's uniquely yours by mixing and matching old and new colors, shapes and sizes.

Ask our experts. Replacements is your go-to resource for all things china, crystal, silver and collectibles. Whether you have questions about pattern identification, need storage/care tips or are looking to use antique finds in fun new ways, we've got you covered with one of the broadest knowledge bases in the tabletop industry.
